

The Concert Experience in Yokohama, Japan!

A Montage from the Evening of May 30, 2001

Wakin and his band were the featured entertainment after the Taiwan ING Aetna Awards Presentation the evening of May 30, 2001. The ceremony was a highly entertaining, big-budget production to honor the top insurance sellers for the year. But nothing could beat the final highlight that everyone had so anticipated that evening: the energetic, electric performance of Wakin Chau and his wonderful magicians.... er.... musicians! 🎵 🎶 🎷

The crowd went wild with cheers when Wakin appeared on stage singing a fast-paced "Peng You" – but that was partly due to his being a little late to show up! And so because he'd actually missed his cue the first time around, he chatted a moment then went back up to the top of the stage and made his entrance again.
