

Wonderful Time in Yokohama, Japan!

Meeting with Wakin Chau on May 29, 2001

YOKOHAMA PACIFICO CONVENTION CENTER

Right: Wakin, his manager and his stylist showed up in the lobby at about 5 p.m.
Below: Signing the J-Club's commemorative banner

c. saracine

Wakin wore his floppy hat the entire time, even when he was obviously feeling hot — he took off the jacket after a short while.

"I think I'm gonna cry," he said when he received the dragon jacket from the J-Club.

One-on-Ones with the J-Club

c. saracine

c. saracine

Goodness — Some of the members of the J-Club seem not to be J! (^_^) What better evidence of Wakin's international appeal? It really makes no difference to the fans whether they completely understand what Wakin is singing or not....